

Desert German Shorthaired Pointer Club
White Mountain, Arizona Field Trial
August 24 – 27, 2007

Submitted by: Doris J. Schoenfelder, Event Chair

Our Fall trial this year turned out to be a HUGE challenge. In years past, this has been approximately a 145 dog trial. This year we had a total entry of 242! However, it was well worth all the effort. Our club proudly hails this as one of the best trials in the country. It is because of those who enter and the dogs they bring to compete that make this trial the best and a very special trial indeed. The DGSPC is so humbled and so proud of the quality of dogs who are entered in this field trial. We sincerely thank each and every person who came to this trial and brought their dogs. We enjoyed all four days of watching these outstanding dogs do their thing. Some of the best dogs and their handlers from across the country come to the White Mountains each year to compete. Off the top of my head for amateurs are, Don Fidler, Joe Hanzel, Steve Pasas, Don Dalton, Rick Dodge, Keith Richardson and many others. The Professional Handlers who brought their outstanding dogs were, Gene Wullkotte, Art Armbrust, GF Henry, Terry Chandler, Ronnie Sale and Eldon Hongo.

The highlight of the trial was a catered dinner on Saturday night for DGSPC Honorary Lifetime Member and GSPCA Honorary Lifetime Member Parl Larson and his lovely wife Shirley. We thank Parl Larson for field trialing as we know it today in the state of Arizona. Parl was key in the forming of the DGSPC and the Region 12. Chet Soberay managed to get a lot of the past members of the DGSPC to attend the dinner, they and other longtime friends of Parl shared some heartwarming and hilarious stories. Parl then spoke and there was not a dry eye in house. It is obvious how much the sport of field trialing and the people involved mean to Parl. Also very obvious was how much Parl Larson means to the Field Trialing community. Dinner was cooked up by Mark and Gary Wilkenson from the Dutch Oven Society. Mark and Gary whipped up a fantastic meal in their cast iron Dutch Ovens that was enjoyed by everyone. Watching the cooking process with the Dutch ovens was just as enjoyable as eating the meal!

We managed to beat the rain and storms so familiar to the White Mountains. However, it was the last brace of the trial that riders were stuck in the storm. The dog wagon picked up the dogs just as the storm hit hard. The rain was coming down in sheets and the thunder and lightning was putting on quite a show. Back at camp everyone huddled in their campers and vehicles and worried about the judges, handlers and scouts still out there. Apparently, it was quite a bonding moment for Art Armbrust, GF Henry, Dan Schoenfelder, Ken Levy, Gary Metzler, Rick Petersen and Kristina Chandler as they waited out the storm, refusing to ride through the open meadows. It was a beautiful sight when these seven people came riding into camp!

I cannot end this without extending a few thank-yous. First to our judges, Art Armbrust, Ric Peterson, Rick Petersen, Russ Settel, Art Armbrust, Gary Metzler, Lynda-Sue Swart, Terry Chandler, Kristina Chandler, GF Henry, Ron Yospur, Bill Root and Dick Anderson. Your long hours in the saddle did not go unnoticed. To those who we could not have done without: Mike Marksberry, Stevie Casdorff, Chet Soberay, The Holzer family, Melissa Thomas, Tina Louie and Ken Levy, and I'm sure I'm missing someone! Thank you to everyone who drove the dog wagon, served as gunners, filled bird bags and planted birds. To those who stepped up when they saw we were in need, Don Dalton for planting birds and Terry Chandler for commandeering the dog wagon and helping to finish up the OGD! A special thank-you to my good friend Lucy Root, who without hesitation, rolled up her sleeves and helped us cook and serve up meals. I also thank my husband Dan and daughter Kjirsten for their help, love and support throughout this event. I am thrilled that they share my love for this sport.

Once again, I would like to stress that it was the dogs entered that made this one awesome event! Thank you everyone for supporting us and for bringing your outstanding dogs to our event.
